

Product Positioning Statement:

Working professionals mainly consultants who need to stay mentally present, actively participate throughout their meetings and also noting down the key meeting information, the process becomes less efficient.

Consultants can easily click a button on their keyboard after the meeting and quickly concentrate their key takeaways as a speed note to analyse it later, Kivi can act as an asset in the form of dictation partner for the company. Kivi creates unique value by both saving the exact speech and also transforming them into structured notes without altering any judgements.
